people who help us

A local policeman visited us this week to talk to the children about safety and the role of police in the community. He also reminded the children the importance of being kind, helpful, listening and sharing with others.

babies have been learning how to share by doing group drawings. They have also tried to feed themselves.

teenies have made their own police hats and learnt to recognise different people who help us.

toddlers have made their own traffic lights and zebra crossing and played lots of games around this. They have continued learning their French numbers and shapes.

all inclusive activities

Next week drama tots will be visiting the nursery for a session of imaginative role play with dance and movement using a variety of props, puppets and instruments.

pre-school In "Food & Nutrition Club" the children have been taking about people who make different foods or sell different foods, they also made rock cakes from scratch.

Pre-school thoroughly enjoyed the visit from the policeman and were impeccably behaved throughout his talk! They also discussed a wide range of other people who help us in our lives, from mums, dads, grandparents, doctors, shop keepers, vets to lolly-pop ladies/gents.....

The home corner in pre-school has been turned into a shop and we have been using this to develop their language and maths skills.
