Our nursery theme this week was: People who help us
 Our nursery theme next week is: Royal Family
 Pre-School phonics letter this week was: N beenies have enjoyed dressing up in various outfits for 'people who help us'. Their favourite was the high visibility jackets so we wore them and learnt how to construct towers with bricks and practised our counting.

toddlers have discussed all the different people who help us and created their own versions of fire engines, police cars, chefs and dentists. We used these to decorate our display board. Toddlers also thought about different jobs and what people would do in those roles.

pre-school had a very special visit from the vets! They enjoyed carrying out an activity of dressing up as a vet, bandaging up a toy dog and discussing what all the equipment was for, their favourite was the stethoscope.

Preschool's letter of the week was 'n' and they have been practising how to form the letter and thinking of words that begin with that sound.

The nursery also had a visit from the police. They came in a car which the children were allowed to sit in and listen to the sirens.

all inclusive activities

This week the children took part in a dance and movement session with "Boogie Mites". Can you feel the beat?
